She formally welcomed all and also discussed the objectives of the programme. She added that Experiential learning is not a new concept — it's grounded in the idea that “learning by doing” leads to deeper understanding and retention. Whether it's through internships, research projects, fieldwork, community engagement, simulations, or industry collaborations, experiential learning bridges the gap between classroom theory and real-world practice. Dr. Zora Singh, Honorable Chancellor of Desh Bhagat University, Mandi Gobindgarh addressed to all that such a faculty development programme not only improves the quality but also adds more and more to the growth of faculty as well as the institution as a whole. Worthy Vice Chancellor Prof (Dr) Harsh Sadawarti addressed that in this rapidly evolving digital era, we are living in a world that is evolving at an unprecedented pace — technologically, socially, and economically. In such a dynamic landscape, it is no longer sufficient for education to focus solely on theoretical knowledge. As educators, institutions, and learners, we must embrace a model that prepares individuals not just to survive, but to thrive — in every aspect of life. This is where experiential learning becomes vital.

Nodal Officer AIU Dr Ranjana Parhiar, guided that quality education can be improved if more and more focus is on overall development of students . She also appreciated the efforts of the University for such Faculty Development Programme. Resource person of the day Dr Sandeep Singhai Senior Scientist, AMPRI, Bhopal focused upon that learning by itself is not enough. Our aim must be holistic development — nurturing not only the intellect but also the emotional, ethical, physical, and social dimensions of a student's personality.

True education must help a student grow into a balanced individual — one who is academically proficient, socially responsible, emotionally intelligent, and morally grounded.
